

LEWESTON
SHERBORNE

Governors' Biographies

Andrew May (Chairman) was at Downside before reading Jurisprudence at Oxford University. He is a qualified Chartered Accountant, who for more than twenty years was Group Finance Director of Monsoon plc, a publicly quoted company in the retail sector. Since retirement from the business in 2003, Andrew is now enjoying working in Dorset as a magistrate on the West Dorset Bench, as a trustee of various charities and for the Princes Trust as a business mentor.

Dr Nicholas Bathurst was educated at Worth School before graduating from The University of London in 1978. For more than 20 years he has worked as a Consultant Radiologist at Yeovil District Hospital Foundation Trust and was recently made Clinical Director of the Department. He is an active member of the Leweston Choral Society and his daughter was a music scholar at Leweston. His hobbies include flying and he holds a private pilots licence.

Ian Crowther is married with two daughters, both educated at Leweston. Following a successful career in advertising, Ian is currently a creative consultant and freelance writer. He acts as Literary Editor of The Salisbury Review contributing to this and other publications. He is also an occasional TV and Radio broadcaster with appearances on Personal View, Question Time and Right Talk. He lectures on political philosophy for the Jan Hus Institute in the Czech Republic and Slovakia.

Mary Head was Head of St. Teresa's Preparatory School for 9 years before taking on the role of General Secretary of The Catholic Independent Schools' Conference for 3 years. She is currently retired, but continues to be interested in Education. As a governor for Leweston she chairs The Education Sub-Committee. She is The Safeguarding Representative for the Catholic Church in Sherborne. Her other interests include being a member of the local R.N.L.I. Committee and Programme Secretary of Chetnole and Leigh Garden Club.

Mark Hudson was at Ampleforth College before reading English Language and Literature at Oxford University. He has since worked as a freelance journalist and management consultant, and until 2007 was managing Director and co-founder of Kable Ltd. He is currently completing an MA in Christian Theology at Heythrop College, London University. His hobbies include reading, theatre and sports and he is involved with several charities.

Mr K Lindblom QC was educated at St John's College Oxford and is one of the leading Planning Barristers in the UK. One of his daughters is an Old Antonian.

Eddie Newton was educated at Stonyhurst College before reading Classics at Jesus College, Cambridge. Following University he moved straight into the education sector. He has worked at several schools, including the Dragon School, Oxford as Head of Classics and is now Headmaster of Chafyn Grove School in Salisbury. Married to Alison, his two children, Thomas and Katie are pupils at Chafyn Grove.

Triff Skepelhorn (née Ramsey) was a pupil at Leweston in the 1970's and went on to spend twenty years in women's magazines and the national press before moving to Dorset in 1996. She and her husband, Stuart, now run a marketing company called Lolly. Her mother is also an Old Antonian and her daughter, Daisy, is a current pupil at the School. Her hobbies include walking the family dog Purdy, cooking for friends and trying to keep fit.

Mrs Emma Treichl is married with 4 children, one of whom, Sofia Marsaglia, is an Old Antonian. Emma, B.A. Honours Degree from Courtauld Inst. University of London, moved to Dorset in 2004 after a career as an artist's agent in London. She is a Founder and Trustee of the Dorset Child and Family Counselling Trust, Patron of Beaminster Playgroup, publisher of Eat Dorset and organizer/host of Eat Dorset Food Fair. Her hobby is riding.

Amanda Wedge is married with two daughters, both educated at Leweston. Before moving to Dorset she worked as a leading make-up artist in the fashion industry. She now runs her own business from a studio outside Sherborne.

Belinda Wingfield-Digby (née Foster-Melliar) lives locally. She is an Old Antonian and mother of three, one of whom is also an Old Antonian.