Welcome to Leweston

Set in forty-six acres of inspiring countryside, Leweston Prep is a very special place to learn and grow.

Because we firmly believe that children learn best when they are happy, our staff strive to achieve a deep understanding of each and every pupil. Our family atmosphere enables children to flourish in an environment where kindness is key and interests are celebrated.

Balance is central to Leweston Prep. We offer a wide range of complementary opportunities to encourage pupils to become well-rounded, engaged and enthusiastic about School life. Children benefit from dedicated outdoor time and enjoy our beautiful surroundings, with running clubs, Forest School, gardening and a daily welly walk for the Pre-Prep. Whilst the curriculum narrows in many educational settings, we pride ourselves on the breadth of our offering, which includes weekly lessons in Modern Foreign Languages, Latin, Performing Arts, Music, Design Technology, ICT, Art, History, Geography, Religious Studies, Science, Swimming, PE and Games. This wide spectrum of opportunities broadens pupils' horizons from an early age and provides every one with the chance to discover their passion, and their strengths.

Academically our pupils are focused and dedicated, however at Leweston we believe that learning extends far beyond traditional classroom studies. The 'Leweston Learner' model, with its six core learning characteristics, sits at the heart of all we do. The model encourages pupils to be confident, adventurous, inquisitive, resilient and determined. Frequent progress reviews in each area equip pupils with the tools to recognise and make the most of all the opportunities afforded them. Throughout this prospectus, you will hear how they do this in their own words.

At Leweston Prep every child is nurtured and supported on their educational journey to excellence. Our children leave as fully rounded, confident and secure individuals who are ready to embrace all that their Senior School education has to offer.

I would be delighted to show you around our wonderful school, so please do arrange to visit.

I am determined

Leweston pupils keep going and do not give up; they expect to work hard and give their best every day. Whether it is completing music practice, or running a little further than last week, they know that the journey is one of self-improvement. They understand that what may come easily to them takes courage and perseverance from another so they encourage their peers to reach their own potential. One may shout footing suggestions to a friend on a climbing wall; another may share methods for learning their tables.

They are independent and work to solve problems, as embedded in our challenge focused curriculum. Sharing feedback, and striving to improve, they always aim to beat their own best.

“

I am determined when...

I struggle to climb the ropes during our climbing session but I keep trying.

I am running and put in extra effort even when I am behind others.

I am doing a showjumping competition and everyone is being supportive.

I am confident

Leweston pupils believe in themselves, their knowledge, and their abilities, and they are never afraid to try something new, choosing different activities from our rolling programme each term. They are proactive in demonstrating respect and empathy for others, whether they are older children acting as 'buddies' for the younger, fundraisers for frequent charity events, or an active member of the School Council.

They have learnt to speak in public, to listen to and persuade others, and hone these skills in their weekly Performing Arts lessons and annual public speaking awards. They enjoy taking part and appreciate the value of teamwork, as shown in our weekly sports fixtures. They know that they are secure and valued by the community around them, in a School where kindness really is at the heart of all that we do.

I am inquisitive

Leweston pupils are keen to learn; they are enquiring and actively seek out answers to their questions. They expect teachers to help them to ask questions, not just to give them the answers.

They are inspired by a topic-based curriculum that fully engages their thought. They take responsibility for their own progression and participate in half-termly feedback meetings, where they reflect upon their own learning and development.

They are enthusiastic and passionate about their interests, in an environment where we celebrate individual and group successes. There is always something new to try, from author visits and workshops, to world food tasting, art installations and book fairs.

I am adventurous

Leweston pupils aim high and never shy away from a challenge. They actively explore and enjoy new ideas, skills and experiences, supported by a team and a curriculum model that prioritises such inspiration. They are taught to take risks and are not afraid to admit and learn from their mistakes. Practical work in Forest School, Cookery and Design Technology enables them to make 'real' mistakes, and to find their own solutions.

They know how to work in different ways and with different people, adapting themselves to get the best out of the group, through challenges on our annual residential trip, sailing courses, and House team events.

I am resilient

Life is a challenging journey, but Leweston pupils remain focused and optimistic. They treat set-backs as opportunities and believe that all experience is valuable, steadily re-building their dens in Forest School when they fall. With strong friendships built in a close community, pupils help each other by recognising and applauding success, and supporting each other when someone is feeling discouraged.

Our playtime buddy scheme ensures that everyone is included. Older pupils take the lead with the younger in their Year 6 Prefect and House Captain roles. Secure in the knowledge that their friends will catch them, our pupils are not afraid to fall, ever building on their mistakes and moving forward.

“

I am resilient when...

My den falls down in Forest School and I have to rebuild it.

I get stuck on a subject in Maths but carry on trying to solve the problem.

I try to improve my handwriting presentation each week.

I am creative

Leweston pupils embrace all forms of creativity. They express their thoughts, feelings and ideas using their imagination and drawing on their own passions. The opportunities offered by music, drama, and art and design give them the confidence to try new things, to listen, concentrate, persevere and create.

Creative expression plays a key role in their emotional development and is not limited to the music room, theatre, or studio. They explore and innovate in all subjects without setting themselves boundaries. Our creative classrooms use storytelling, brainstorming, and visualisation to transform the way that Leweston pupils learn and how they apply that learning in real life. They are encouraged to never shy away from a challenge, to always look at things from different angles, and to find the fun in every day.

Every day we witness the sense of adventure, determination, resilience, and confidence in Leweston children, brought about by a conducive atmosphere for learning and a strong ethos.

Staff astound us with their ability and inventiveness to provide such a broad range of creative activities. The level of detail that goes into reporting the children's development and frequent updates on Tapestry are nothing short of incredible.

All of this has resulted in a wonderfully happy child; one who is so very content at Leweston that, as parents, we could not have wished for a more successful outcome.

Year 3 Parent

Somehow you and your staff seem to have managed to establish in the children some fundamentals beyond the narrow scope of performance and we had seen results of a deliberate holistic approach to educating young children. You and the staff obviously worked very hard on the School Concert but in turn, that was of secondary importance because each and every child had learned, probably subliminally, that if they apply themselves to something wholeheartedly they can succeed and then enjoy the results.

Year 1 Grandparent

The prep teaching staff have excelled in encouraging our daughter to discover her talents and worked tirelessly with her in imaginative ways to develop them effectively. The confidence and self-assurance that has come from their commitment has encouraged a love of learning that is priceless and has helped equip her fully for the transition to senior school. We could not be more delighted with our choice of school.
